

Rapunzel

Once upon a time there was a little girl called Rapunzel. She was the King and Queen's daughter and she was well known for her luscious blonde hair. On her first birthday, though, an old witch came through her window at night and took her away.

As she grew, she got more and more attached to the witch who was kind and had been through a lot. One day the witch left to go to the village and while she was away a man appeared at the bottom of Rapunzel's tower.

"Rapunzel let down your hair" he commanded. So she did and he climbed up until he was a foot from the top, and then she pulled her hair out from under him and he fell to his death.

From then on she went around luring men with her luscious blonde hair then laying them out stone cold, until there were no princes left in the land.

Sunny Ryan -Jacques